

Deed of Emancipation

- (1) The enclosed “Deed of Emancipation” is based on the rights guaranteed every citizen of The United States in The Constitution and The Bill of Rights, which is the supreme law of the land, when ever the laws passed by states, counties, towns and city governments disagree with the laws of the United States. (See Article 6 – Clause 2) Amendment 14 – Section One.
- (2) States must not take away certain kinds of rights, privileges and immunities, no matter how legally it is done. Whatever rights are given or rules are made, they must be the same for everyone.
- (3) Amendment 13 – Section 1 - Section 2. Laws pertaining to Emancipation. Slavery and involuntary servitude – or emancipation is freedom from all forms of oppression, implied authority, usage or suppression, including unjust parental controls. Most states have emancipation laws pertaining to persons of minority years, but until now little action has been taken by individual states to ensure emancipation of adults as Amendment 13 – Section 1 – Section 2 and Amendment 14 – Section One guarantee. This protection to all individuals. (The only exception is for involuntary servitude as a punishment for a crime whereof the party has been duly committed).

Constitution –

Article 1 – Section 9 – Clause 3.

No legislature or legislative body may pass a law forbidding a regular trial in court or that convicts you of a crime – misdemeanor or felony without due process of law. (Right of petition and due process of law).

Article 4 – Section 2 – Clause 1.

This insures each individual is a citizen of the nation, as well as their own state, and establishes freedom of movement between states by asserting the citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in several states.

Amendment 1 – Freedoms.

Freedom of religion, speech, press (written word), peaceful assembly – including the right to petition.

Amendment 5 – Equal Privilege

Guarantees equality of privileges and immunities for all citizens in all states, including due process of law.

Amendment 9 – Protection of Rights

Protection against loss of rights that have not been put into the Constitution or the Bill of Rights.

This insures your right to execute, sign and file the “Deed of Emancipation”.
